Scrubbing the Floor.

An incident is told by Dr. Scoffern which illustrates in a pleasant way the good humor and geniality which belonged to Michael Faraday as much during his later as his earlier years. Prof. Brande, during the year 1851, was lecturing at one time on a newly-discovered method of purifying sugar of lead; while they were in the laboratory Scoffern accidentally let fall a retort of corrosive liquid. In an instant, he tells us, Prof. Faraday threw some soda upon the floor; then down on his hands and knees we went, and cloth in hand, like any humble housemaid. Laughingly, I expressed my desire to photograph him then and there; he demurred to the pose, begged me to consult his dignity, and began laughing with a childish joyousness. Hilariously boyish upon occasions he could be, and those who knew him best knew he was never more at home and never seemed so pleased as when making us "old boy" of himself, as he was wont to say, lecturing before a juvenile audience at Christmas.—Youth's Companion.

It Sounded So Pretty.

Some years ago a Rochester clergyman, in baptizing a baby, paused in the middle of the service to inquire the name of the infant, to which the mother, with a profound courtesy, replied:

"Shady, sir, if you please."

"Shady?" replied the minister. "Then it's a boy and you mean Shadrach, eh?"

"No, please your reverence, it's a girl."

"And pray," asked the inquisitive pastor, "how happened you to call the child by such a na...

"Well, sir," replied the woman, "if you must know, our name is Bower and my husband said as how he should like her to be called Shady, because Shady Bower sounds so pretty."—Quips.

A Profound Mystery.

The vermiform appendix is about the only thing in the human structure for whose existence science has been unable to discover a reason. The vermiform appendix is a small tube of tissue about as big as half a lead pencil and depending from the colon or big intestine. In this position it is apt to catch cherry pits, seeds of fruit, and other small objects likely to incite inflammation. When that takes place the only way to save the patient is to remove the vermiform appendix, and it is so situated in the body that the operation of taking it out is attended with much deep cutting and consequently much danger.

GOLD MINES IN THE SOUTH.

They Were Worked Quite Regularly Before the War.

Few persons have any idea of the quantity of gold that exists in the western part of Georgia, South Carolina and North Carolina. The majority of these mines were known forty or fifty years ago, but have been abandoned. In almost every instance a very significant amount of ore taken from them has been used. A short time ago Mr. C. B. Warrand, of this city, visited one of the most interesting and valuable of these gold-bearing quartz districts at the foot of the Blue Ridge mountains on the banks of the Broad river, in York county, S. C., near Smith's ford, and he gives an interesting account of his visit, says the Savannah News.

Forty-five years ago and up to the war, he says, the mines there were worked regularly with slave labor. A shaft was sunk on the veins, which vary from three to five feet in thickness and which are almost perpendicular. The quartz ore was roasted on the spot to make it more friable and was then carted often for miles to some water power, where it was run through a primitive stamp-mill. With slave labor these mines paid well, though less than one-half of the gold was recovered, probably twenty-five per cent. of the free gold being lost; the pyrites or gold sulphurets were entirely thrown away, being considered worthless. Still, with cheap labor it paid, and thousands of dollars of gold were sent to the United States mints annually. Since the war a number of spasmodic efforts have been made to work the mines, which invariably ended in a failure. As a rule the capital employed was entirely too small and labor-saving devices were either beyond the means of the operators or were unknown at the time. Lately this state of affairs has changed and the brilliant success made at the Hale mine in Kershaw county, S. C., in working up daily hundreds of tons of ore containing only two dollars and fifty cents of gold at a cost of forty cents per ton, and recovering ninety-five per cent. of the gold by the coronation process, seems to have demonstrated that with proper skill and modern mechanical appliances and sufficient capital many low-grade ores can be profitably mined. Such a substantial proof as a surplus of fifty thousand dollars accumulated in one year by the Hale mine is certainly a very convincing argument.

The time is near at hand, Mr. Warrand believes, when the value of our southern gold mines will be recognized, giving employment to thousands and adding daily to southern wealth. Gold-mining in the south never will be in the nature of a bonanza, but if it is carried on like any other business, with only moderate expectations in proportion to the capital invested, and with the help of all improved methods and machinery, it will be found safer and more remunerative than the majority of ventures.

POSTAGE STAMP COLLECTORS.

A Field Actively Covered by the "Philatelist."

"All the world's a stage"—at least in the eyes of the born dramatist. To the mind of the born "philatelist" it appears to present itself as a vast field for the exercise of the energies of the postage stamp collector. From the new monthly of the Philatelic society of London we gather that the vice president of that society, accompanied by the honorary secretary of the Brighton society and one other enthusiastic member of the latter body, is now on a tour around the world in quest of these cherished trifles and meeting with sympathizing souls in various parts.

Mr. Castle's latest letter descriptive of his mission is dated from Bombay, which has, it seems, a society of its own, and has left on the minds of Mr. Castle and his companions "the most favorable philatelic impressions." Meanwhile numerous other philatelists, as will be seen, are "posting over land and ocean without rest," impelled by the same absorbing passion.

One chivalrously stands forth in defense of Prince Edward Island from the unmerited contempt of the indolent philatelists who have spoken disparagingly of its postage stamp productiveness; another takes Fiji in hand, while a gentleman who has examined the great work of Mr. Tiffany and his associates, just completed, on the subject of "The Stamped Envelopes and Wrappers of the United States," reports that the list includes no fewer than sixteen hundred and forty-three varieties.

Spry Old Maine People.

Maine is noted for her hale and spry old people. Ex-Gov. Garcelon, in Lewiston, eighty-five years old, is an active rider and driver of fast horses, of which his stables contain twenty-three fine animals. Mrs. Jonathan Dow, of Deer Isle, eighty years old, has knitted forty pairs of stockings and woven two hundred yards of rag carpeting and one hundred yards of cloth during the past season in odd moments snatched from her general housework and the care of a flock of hens. Mrs. Joanna Bunker, of West Trenton, eighty-seven years old, has just finished a waistcoat which she cut and made without the use of glasses. Mr. Robbins, also of Deer Isle, is seventy-six, and, last year, besides doing much repairing to vehicles, he made all the woodwork for four carts, one jigger, a double-seated wagon and a horse sled.

NEWSPAPERS IN ODD CORNERS.

Among Them Is a Unique Sheet Issued in the Canadian Northwest.

At Prince Albert, a remote but busy village in the Canadian northwest, a weekly newspaper is, or recently was, regularly published in the handwriting of its proprietor, editor, reporter, advertising agent and printer, the five being one man. He adorned his lively four-page sheet with caricatures rudely copied from comic papers, and decorated his horse and stock "ads" with rough cuts. The paper appeared in purple ink from a gelatine copying-press, or hektograph, and its editorials and local news were usually so clearly presented that the little journal was influential in the territories, read with avidity in the newspaper offices of eastern Canada and constantly quoted as an authority. A newspaper by the same process is the Mashonaland Herald and Zambesi Times, conducted by an Englishman in the wilds of Africa, and supported by subscriptions and "ads" from miners and traders. The most northerly of newspapers is said by the Youth's Companion to be the Nord Kap, published weekly in Hammerfest, Norway, by Peter Johannsen, who lives and works in a little turf-roofed house. The Nord Kap is, however, regularly printed from news received by a ship which touches at Hammerfest but once in eight days. Sometimes the latest news arrives on the day of publication for the former batch, and then "the latest" does not get into the Nord Kap till it has been known fourteen days or more to the great world to the southward. But the most curious paper of all is that described by G. A. Sala, as formerly published in the Deccan. This paper was lithographed every morning on a square of white cotton cloth. After having perused it the subscribers employed it as a pocket handkerchief. Then they sent it to the local washerwoman, who returned it, a clean square of white cotton, to the publisher, who lithographed and issued the same sheets again and again.

A HORSE IN A CALLOON.

Osman Pasha, an Equine Aeronaut, Making Daily Ascensions in Berlin.

The latest novelty launched on the circus-going public of Berlin is designated on the programme of the famous Corty-Athol circus as "Osman Pasha, the great and only equine aeronaut of the nineteenth century." Osman Pasha is described by the New York Press as a proud black stallion with fine head and symmetrical proportions.

His trainers found little difficulty at first in inducing the stallion, who was very docile, to step in the car of the balloon, and in order to prevent accidents two stout straps connected his bit with heavy iron rings fastened to the sides of the car. After his first aerial trip, however, he strenuously objected to leave terra firma, and it required several months of patient and careful coaxing before Osman could perform his feat gracefully. And even now, after many trials, he exhibits a certain lack of confidence. When Osman receives his command to step into the balloon conveyance he acts like a woman on the point of taking a cable car—he wants to be sure that the thing does not fly away before he is comfortably installed. During the ascension he behaves phlegmatically and stands perfectly still, notwithstanding the manipulations of his keepers below, who are constantly pulling on the ropes attached to the car, swinging it violently back and forth so that screams of terror escape the ladies, who fear that the poor beast may tumble down at any moment. The only symptoms of fear the horse evinces occur during the pyrotechnical finale. From the moment the attendant approaches with his flaming torch with which he kindles the fireworks the stallion begins to stamp and snort furiously. During this part of the performance his fiery eyes and pricked ears denote his interest, and when he is finally released there is a sudden dash for the stable, under the uproarious applause of the appreciative multitude.

Washed Out the Ink.

The most precious document in the possession of the nation—namely: the Declaration of Independence — has faded to such an extent as to be almost undecipherable, writes a Washington correspondent. This misfortune is not due to the age of the writing, but to a process which it underwent in making of a fac simile of it when John Adams was secretary of state. In order to lithograph it it was wetted, and the historic manuscript was nearly ruined in the performance. Nearly all of the signatures have wholly vanished, while the body of the text is in great part illegible. When Frelinghuysen was secretary of state that department submitted the question of restoring the Declaration to scholars and chemists. Many persons volunteered to do the work, but it was thought best not to attempt it. On the other hand, the rough draft of the same document, made previously, is as good as new to-day, the ink in which it is written being perfectly black.

Every Mussulman, however high his rank, from the sultan down to the lowest dervish, is compelled to have a trade. The grandfather of the present sultan was a toothpick maker. The boatman, porter or groom is eligible to the grade of pasha. The butcher of to-day may be generalissimo of to-morrow, and the lowest slave may become grand vizier.

THE POET'S WRATH.

It Was Expressed in Strange Dictionary Words.

The number of obsolete words that are to be found in Webster's dictionary is considerably larger than people have any idea of. The following letter, written by an alleged poet to an editor who had treated his poetry with derision, furnishes some idea of them:

"SIR: You have behaved like an impetiginous scrogle! Like those who, envious of any moral celsitude, carry their ungicity to the hight of creating sympositally the fecund words which my polymathic genius uses with alberty to abligate the tongues of the weetless! Sir, you have crassly parodied my own pet words as though they were tangrams. I will not conscervate reproaches—I will obduce a veil over the atramental ingratitude which has chamfered even my indiscerptible heart. I am silent on the foeillation which my coadjuvancy must have given you when I offered to become your fautor and adminicle. I will not speak of the lippitude, the oblepsy, you have shown in exacerbating me, one whose genius you should have approached with mental discalceation. So I tell you without supervacaneous words, nothing will render ignoscible your conduct to me. I warn you that I would vellicate your nose if I thought that any moral diarthrosis thereby could be performed—if I thought I should not impignorate my reputation. Go! tachygraphic scrogle, band with your crass inquinite fautors; draw oblectations from the thought, if you can, of having synchronically lost the existimation of the greatest poet since Milton!"

And yet all these words are to be found in the dictionary.—Boston Herald.

BLAINE'S QUAINT TASTES.

He Was Seen Listening to a Hand Organ All by Himself.

At the time a curious craze swept over New York for witnessing public walking matches, Mr. Blaine was at the Fifth Avenue hotel, where politicians expected to meet him. Instead of seeing them, his boyish impulse carried him to the Madison Square garden. He went alone, and in the vast throng was not recognized. When he came forth from the building, he started to return to the hotel by the north side of Madison square.

A curiously sweet-toned hand organ was grinding out a sort of public vesper service. The writer happened to be passing at that time, and being surprised to see the organ-grinder with a solitary auditor, glanced at this man who was thus entertained and was amazed to find that it was Mr. Blaine, who seemed filled with delight with the music.

He had been giving himself up to this seemingly trivial and boyish enjoyment, heedless apparently that he might thereby give offense to the politicians who were waiting for him. In fact he did greatly wound the feelings of one man upon that occasion. Politicians could not understand such impulses as these, and Mr. Blaine knew it and he therefore never made any attempt to furnish explanation. Yet when his life is honestly written, some of his disappointments and some of the enmities which he created will be traced to this disposition.—Chautauquan.

Not to Blame.

Sir Walter Trevelyan, who died in 1879 at the age of eighty-two, had inherited an immense cellar of wines, said to have been then the rarest collection in the world. Some of the wines were bottled in 1759 and others in 1777. But the baronet was himself a total abstainer and bequeathed his wines to Dr. Richardson, his colleague in temperance agitation, to be "employed for scientific purposes." Sir Walter's wife would have wine on the dinner-table. A visitor, after a glass of port from a bottle bought by the baronet's father in 1784, offered to purchase the whole at a guinea a bottle. "No, sir," said Sir Walter, "I mean to have the whole carried out some day and emptied into the Wansbeck." One night Sir Walter had such a severe attack of gout that he was obliged to ascend the stairs on his knees—he was too self-reliant to permit a servant to carry him. A friend suggested that he might console himself by reflecting that he was not to blame. "No!" he answered, "my father and grandfather drank the port and I came in for the gout."—Youth's Companion.

QUEER INDUSTRIES.

THE manufacture of bogus confederate money is an established industry in Van Buren, Mo.

IN 1621 a factory was operated near Jamestown, Va., which made glass beads for the Indians.

A LOT of counterfeit silver dollars were recently discovered in an old field near Owensburg, Ky. They appeared to have been buried there in the '50's, though the dates of some of them were obscure.

IT probably will interest those who buy Indian and Mexican silver filigree work on the trains in New Mexico and Arizona, to know that many of these fragile curios are manufactured by a firm of people in the street called Maiden lane, in the city of New York.

STRANGE FACTS.

Home News from Abroad.

The following interesting scraps of information have been collected by English travelers. As they are frequently published in foreign journals they are doubtless accepted as facts:

Americans sweeten their tea and coffee with rock candy.

Boston society people entertain evening visitors with the singularly intellectual device of writing a capital D on a sheet of paper while standing at a table and trying at the same time to swing the right foot in a direction exactly opposite from that in which the pen is moving. Prizes are offered for the most successful in the exploit.

Servants in America, excepting in large cities, are admitted to all the privileges of the family, and frequently, in hiring a maid of all work, a mistress has to agree to tend the street door herself.

Bass' Cheeks.

Bass' cheeks is the very latest gastronomical novelty. They do not figure on cafe menus yet and are found only at the most gorgeous and extravagant private dinners. The fish comes very high because it takes about a ton of bass to furnish a small dish of cheeks. The cheek of a bass is a tiny nugget of the tenderest and most delicately flavored meat, found in the lower part of the head on either side. This is lifted out and the remainder of the bass is tossed away. One Philadelphia hotel man has achieved a reputation in that city and New York by his preparation of bass' cheeks, and every time he receives a big order he creates a corner in the bass market.

Queer Lottery Prizes.

A letter from Cairo says that Egypt has decided to make a gift of the mummies found in upper Egypt, and now in the Ghiseh museum, to the different museums in London, Paris, Berlin, Vienna, St. Petersburg and Rome. The mummies are to be divided into six lots and drawn for by lots. This is the first time that mummies have been used as prizes in a lottery, and it is difficult to see how puritanic England can reconcile itself to such a gambling deal as this, although, no doubt, sooner than lose the grab, she will find some means to "chase the devil around the stump." The other countries, of course, will have no hesitation in accepting Egypt's magnificent gift.

NOT WANTED.

Among emigrants from Europe who are likely to seek homes in the United States during the coming season is a class which ought to be welcome. These are the German colonists in Southern Russia, who have been settled in that country for over 100 years, and have maintained themselves aloof and apart from the Russians surrounding them.—Fresno Republican.

We cannot see why they should be welcomed more than the good classes from other foreign countries. There has been a hue and cry against any further foreign emigration, and it is time there was a halt. We have enough people in this country to provide for, without inviting more to come. Every foreigner that comes here keeps the necessaries of life from those who are already of us, and are entitled to be provided for in preference to new emigrants. If not another foreigner should come into this country the natural increase of the population would be sufficient for the needs of the country, both financially and industrially. What the country most needs is a wholesale deportation of the foreign criminal element. Every foreign criminal in our State prisons should be sent back to his native country, never to return, thus relieving the taxpayers of a great burden. And the thousands who cling to our big cities, in which they eke out a miserable existence, should be scattered over the sparsely settled portions of the country and assistance rendered in providing homes for them. Such assistance should be tendered by the various religious societies, now spending millions of American dollars in heathen lands with no benefit to Christianity; dollars which could be more religiously used in building up Christian communities in our own country. Such a use of Church funds would be more acceptable to God, in whose interest the missionary societies profess to be diligently laboring. No, no! Do not invite any more to come until we provide for our present overgrown family circle.

The English battleship Victoria was run into and sunk off Tripoli on the 22d ult, by her sister ship, the Camperdown. A hole was stove in her side, letting in an immense body of water, carrying her to the bottom, upside down, within fifteen minutes after she was struck. Out of a complement of over 600 officers and men, over 400 were lost, among them being Vice Admiral Tryon, the Victoria being his flagship, and one of the best in the English navy. The appalling disaster cast a gloom over all England. The cause of the disaster is thought to be the defective steering gear of the Victoria preventing her getting out of the way of the Camperdown. Somebody, probably Rear Admiral Markham, of the Camperdown, will be courtmartialed.

Mr. Batchelder of the Gettysburg Battlefield Association has presented to the Secretary of War a report on the recent vandalism on the grounds. An electric road is blasting rock that was the natural bulwark for the Fourth Maine and Fortieth New York regiments. The road also cuts straight through lines of battle for a mile and over landmarks which have been leveled by the laborers. Cuts and fills disfigure the face and slopes of Little Round Top. The road passes over the ground of Longstreet's assault and hides the spot where General Garnett was killed. The damage can never be repaired, but a halt has been called upon further devastation.

The Pacific Union Printer gives the following as the number of printers in the three offices of the principal San Francisco morning papers: Examiner, 103; Chronicle, 82, and Call 70. This shows that the Examiner employs 21 compositors more than the Chronicle, and tells that it is the leading paper of this coast.

Evans and Sontag have been removed from the Visalia jail to Fresno, where they will be tried and come nearer getting justice than a trial in Tulare county would result in.

The San Jose Mercury is pouring broadside after broadside into the Examiner, because the latter's 120-page issue located the Stanford University in San Mateo county, instead of in Santa Clara county.

Tuesday's Fresno Republican says that Sontag is threatened with lockjaw. Blood poisoning has set in, and his recovery is doubtful.

A law has been passed by the Michigan legislature compelling railroads to give passes to all State officials.

The trial of Heath, for the murder of McWhirter, at Fresno, is progressing slowly, and the evidence is damaging to him.

Wm. M. Gwin has been appointed Shipping Commissioner at San Francisco.

S. & G. Gumpe, the art goods dealers of San Francisco, have made an assignment.

At Macon on Monday there were 445 deaths from cholera.

There are deaths from cholera occurring daily in many of the towns in France.

DECLINE OF SILVER.

The financial world has been startled by the news that India has stopped the free coinage of silver—the white metal has declined to 71. Colorado, Montana and Nevada, when silver was at 100, were not content, but followed Bill Stewart, demanded free coinage, and bitterly denounced Harrison and the Republican Party. They did not know when they were well off. In this connection, we are reminded of a popular cartoon upon the annexation of Texas.—In honor of the occasion, Uncle Sam gave a banquet to the Lone Star State. All the States, except the honored guest, were in their best attire. Texas, dilapidated and dirty, standing and reaching his plate across the table to his Uncle for more, was thus greeted by the mad host: "You ragged cuss, you have eaten everything in sight, and you are crying more! more!!"

On Tuesday afternoon, at 3 30 o'clock, an outbreak, headed by George Sontag, occurred at the quarry of the Folsom State Prison. After a furious fight, lasting forty-five minutes, the convicts surrendered, leaving Henry Wilson, Frank Williams and A. Dalton dead in the hole, lying upon each other, and riddled with bullets. Sontag's right leg was badly broken in two places and left thigh wounded—he will lose his leg. Charles Abbott, shot in thigh, ankle broken, and shots about the face and body. Thomas Scheil was accidentally shot in the abdomen, and will die; and Joseph Duffy received a flesh wound. The officials were uninjured.

The editorial in the Lyon County, Nev., Times on the death of Senator Stanford was a disgrace to that paper, and it is not to be wondered at that the Mason Valley Tidings is supplanting it in the good opinion of the people. The editorial in question commences with: "Senator Stanford has passed in his checks," which is enough to show the animus of the entire article.—Such a writer is a disgrace to the profession.

Some of the Nevada papers are saying that Mike DeYoung will be appointed by Gov. Markham to succeed the late Senator Stanford in the Senate. Gov. Markham is far from being the fool the Nevada papers think he is. De Young is not thought of in this State for the place, and Markham would not disgrace himself and the State by appointing him.

September 18th will be the centennial anniversary of the laying of the corner-stone of the Capitol at Washington, and it will be celebrated in the East in good style.

The great Columbian Liberty Bell was successfully cast at Troy, N. Y. on the 22d ult. It will be rung at Chicago at noon on the Fourth. It was made of old relics.

THE pope in 1185 prohibited the crossbow as barbarous, and threatened crossbowmen with excommunication.

THE peach is of Persian origin and the apricot is Syrian. The former fruit is mentioned by classical writers as early as 200 B. C., but the latter not until 30 A. D.

IN Spain, about 1630, the hoopskirts became so monstrous that an edict was issued commanding their reduction and ordering the confiscation of hoopskirts above the regulation size. The attempts to carry out the edict caused innumerable riots and were finally abandoned.

A Clever Cat.

A parsonage cat, whose favorite seat is on the study table, has found a new use for himself. He watches his master's pen, and occasionally, when the writer is tired, takes the holder in his mouth. But his real usefulness is to act as a paper weight. When a sheet is finished and laid aside, the cat walks gravely to it and takes his seat on the paper. As soon as another is laid aside he leaves the first and sits down on the second. Sometimes, to try him, his master lays down, on different parts of the table, sheets in rapid succession. But "Powhatan"—the cat—remains seated, shrewdly supposing that to be fun, not business. When work begins anew the cat seats himself on the last paper laid down, and waits for another. Thus he shows that he watches his master's work, and perhaps thinks it his duty to keep the paper from blowing away.

MEDICAL.

Steady Progress.

Has characterized Hood's Sarsaparilla ever since it was placed before the public. Wherever introduced, its sales have grown from year to year, until now it is the most popular and most successful medicine offered. Any druggist will confirm this statement. The secret of this success lies in the fact that Hood's Sarsaparilla is a medicine of merit. It does actually accomplish all that is claimed for it, and when given a fair trial, is reasonably certain to do us benefit.

Positive Statements.

"Since Hood's Sarsaparilla has been in my hands for sale I have had frequent and unreserved testimonials in its favor. Although carrying this preparation for less than one year, my sales have been greater than of any similar preparation, and the testimonials in its favor are at once positive and personally noticeable." A. WRIGHT, Healdsburg, Cal.

Sells On Its Merits.

"My boys say, 'Papa, why don't you buy more of Hood's Sarsaparilla at a time; we are always short.' It sells on its own merits." F. BEAL, Portland, Oregon; the oldest druggist in Oregon.

CHRISTOPHER CARSON WOODFORD,
Plaintiff,
vs.
ELLONER AUGUSTA WOODFORD,
Defendant.

Action brought in the Superior Court of the County of Alpine, State of California, and the Complaint filed in said County of Alpine, in the office of the Clerk of said Superior Court.

C. C. P., SEC. 407.

The People of the State of California send Greeting to

Defendant.

You are hereby required to appear in an action brought against you by the above named Plaintiff, in the Superior Court of the said County of Alpine, State of California, and to answer the Complaint filed therein, within ten days, (exclusive of the day of service), after the service on you of this summons, if served within this County; or, if served elsewhere, within thirty days.

The said action is brought to obtain judgment against you and a decree of said Honorable Superior Court dissolving the bonds of matrimony existing between said Plaintiff and the said Defendant, upon the following grounds which are fully set out in the Complaint, viz: Defendant's willful desertion of the Plaintiff, her husband, ever since the 1st day of February, 1889; that on that day Defendant, at Douglas County, State of Nevada, willfully and without cause or provocation abandoned and deserted the Plaintiff and continues to live separate and apart from him without Plaintiff's consent and against his will and wish, as will more fully appear by reference to the Complaint on file herein.

And you are hereby notified that if you fail to appear and answer the said complaint as above required, the said Plaintiff will apply to the Court for the relief prayed for in the Complaint and sought by this action.

[L.S.] Witness my hand and the Seal of said Superior Court of the said County of Alpine, State of California, this 14th day of June, A. D. 1893.

Miss Reta McAlpin, of Bodie, is visiting Mrs. Chas. Day.

Felix Cobients and Henry Mathey were here this week from San Francisco to examine the Ward mine.

J. P. Hammond and Jos. T. Courchain came over from Mono Lake on Tuesday.

Mrs. H. W. Boyd, of Bodie, came over on Tuesday, and is the guest of Mrs. Judge Virden.

Mrs. R. A. Leale, of Bodie, was here the first of the week with a fine stock of millinery goods.

R. A. Leale was over from Bodie on Wednesday.

Brack and Jesse Summers came over from Mono Mills yesterday to spend the Fourth.

Mrs. W. O. Parker, accompanied by her sister, Miss Lulu Strobridge, will arrive from Sacramento this evening on the Carson stage.

T. B. Rickey and bride drove down from the Point last evening for a short visit.

FINANCIAL REPORT.—On our fourth page will be found the semi-annual report of the County Auditor. This is the first time in two years that the taxpayers of this county have had an opportunity to know how the different funds of the County stand, the economical Board of Supervisors two years ago having ordered the publication of the Quarterly reports of the Auditor and Treasurer to cease. In every county in the State these reports are regularly published, except in this county.

ASSESSMENT ROLL.—The Assessment Roll of Mono county, exclusive of the State assessment on the C. & C. R. R., amounts to $772,607, as follows: Real Estate, $306,993. Improvements, $179,160; city and town lots, $12,723; improvements, $62,964; personal property, $201,977; money and credits, $8,250. The assessment on the Carson & Colorado Railroad is about the same as last year—say $71,317.

THE CANTATA.—Our friends in outside camps should come to town on Monday so as to take in the Cantata at Bryant's Hall on Monday night, and so be here bright and early on the morning of the Fourth.—The entertainment on Monday night will be well worth attending, as a number of the best singers in the county will take part in the exercises. Admission only 50 cents.

DELINQUENT TAXES.—On Monday next, Tax Collector Hays will commence the sale of delinquent tax property, and that not sold will be struck down to the State—thus removing a number of parcels of unprofitable assessments, notably that of H. Z. Osborne's mortgage on O. E. Jones' Miner's real estate and plant, which have cost the county over $30 for delinquent advertising—and yet no sale.

BAD PRACTICE.—The practice of throwing bottles and broken glass on our streets is a bad one, and it should be stopped. On the Fourth there will be a large number of teams in town and our people should see that the streets are clear of such dangerous things, as they might cut and ruin some valuable animals.

CLEAN UP.—Now is the time to clear up and burn the rubbish on your residence lots, as a fire-cracker thrown among rubbish has caused many a disastrous fire, and we are not anxious to have a fire to show off the fire apparatus—so clean up.

RENOVATED.—A. F. Bryant has been renovating Bryant's Hall, which has been repapered and put in good shape for parties and public purposes. The Decoration Committee has been at work and will have the Hall appropriately decorated for the Fourth.

A BARGAIN.—Anybody wishing to buy a new and first-class sewing machine on good terms—or for hay, grain, or wood, can get a bargain by coming to the CHRONICLE-UNION office.

GET READY.—If any of our Mono people want to take the Keeley Cure they can get ready to take it in Carson, where such an institution will commence business on the 10th.

DIVIDEND.—The Standard Con. Mining Co. has declared another dividend of ten cents per share, payable at the San Francisco office July 25th.

RELIGIOUS.—Rev. Mr. Bott will hold services at the School House to-morrow morning at 11 o'clock. All are cordially invited to attend.

WILL MEET.—On Monday next, the Supervisors will meet as a Board of Supervisors, and as a Board of Equalization.

A Grand Fourth of July dinner at the Allen House from 5 to 7 o'clock.

Russell's team arrived from Carson late on Thursday night.

Summer has struck us at last, the thermometer showing 90 at 3 P. M. yesterday.

FOURTH OF JULY.—Bridgeport will have a good, sensible and joyous celebration on Tuesday next, and there will be a large attendance from Bodie and other precincts of the county and vicinities. Everybody will be aroused at sunrise by a Federal salute of thirteen guns, which will make the mountains echo and re-echo the announcement that the glorious Fourth has again put in an appearance. There will be a procession in the morning, starting at 10 o'clock, and literary exercises will be well worth listening to, as the orators will wish to add to their popularity by being brief. The musical portion of the exercises promises to be a little better than usual, and this is saying a good deal, as the music has always been excellent. After the exercises, and every one has looked after the wants of the inner man, there will be a baseball game between the Bodie and Bridgeport Clubs for a prize of $50, and it will be well contested.—There will, also, be sports of all kinds for the children, and big folks, too. In the evening there will be a fine display of fireworks, under the management of Prof. Joe A. Brown. At the conclusion of the display, the grand march will commence at the Grand Ball in Bryant's Hall. Our outside friends will see by this, that they will miss a heap of genuine fun and sociability, if they do not come to Bridgeport on Monday, so as to take in the Cantata, and get all their moneys' worth on the Fourth.—On the 5th, excursions will be made to the Twin Lakes, Fales' Hot Springs, and Buckeye Springs, and, if we had some, we would "cut a watermelon," as our people are determined to make the visitors thank their stars for coming to Bridgeport and having a good time. The Bridgeport Brass Band will furnish music for the Day.

EYE INJURED.—J. P. Hammond, while working on a shaft at Hawks' sawmill, yesterday was struck in the left eye by a clipping. Dr. Sinclair removed the steel It is thought the eye has not been seriously injured.

Mrs. Ann Summers will have ice cream at her parlors on Sunday.

Good growing weather, this.

"OUR BOYS AND GIRLS."

"What shall we do with our boys and girls," was the question addressed to five representative citizens of Santa Rosa, a merchant, a physician, a professor, a lawyer and a miner, by the Santa Rosa Republican, and among the answers was the following, from our old Democratic friend, J. C. McTarnahan, the miner:

"Feel their heads. Have a specific object in view in their education. Don't scatter. Revise the present system of public school instruction for all pupils twelve years old. Employ competent professors of phrenology to chart and group boys especially adapted for any one of four kindred branches of business suitably for men exclusively—the same for boys and girls for branches common for both—then girls in their line.—Then teach exclusively these branches calculated to develop each class, or caste of mind. Don't smother natural gifts with a hundred ologies for which they have neither taste nor fitness. Turn them out at eighteen with an object in view. Half of our lives are gone before we find our place. We get in the wrong rut and fail. Thirty years will make us a nation of specialists in every department of knowledge useful to civilized man. Factories, canneries, hop fields and fruit raising is only temporary relief. "A Tub to the Whale." Kill the whale. Strike the disease at the roots.—To illustrate—When Daniel Webster was a boy his father sent him to the meadow to cut hay. Dan soon returned and said the scythe was too low at the point. His dad fixed it and Dan came back again; it was too high that time. The old man told Dan to hang it himself, which he did in an apple tree. Then, said Dan, "It hangs to suit me now." Dan was a failure as a farmer. The world knows the rest. Finally, enforce the Geary act and in thirty years the Chinese question will be solved, slavery abolished, labor elevated, everybody in their proper sphere. Life worth living, suicide unknown. Everybody will be happy because pleasantly employed. Yes, feel their heads, is my answer as a miner.

J. C. McTARNAHAN.

There is a gun in the British navy, a 22-ton Armstrong, which hurls a solid shot a distance of twelve miles, the highest point in the arc described by the shot being 1,000 feet above the earth's surface.

DECIDEDLY SHAKY.

A trembling hand, an uncertain step, fidgetiness, indicated by restless shifting from one place or posture to another, usually mental annoyance at unexpected noises, are among the indications of extreme nervousness. These seem trifling, but the health of men and women in this condition is "decidedly shaky," liable to be overthrown disastrously by causes which the vigorous might defy. To fortify the nervous system, general vigor must, through the medium of reinforced digestion, and a renewal of an impaired power of sleeping at night, be raised to a healthful standard. A guarantee of this is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which re-establishes digestion, bile secretion and the habit of body on a permanently regular basis, thus renewing that bodily equilibrium, which is followed by a grain of strength and nerve tranquility. For kidney complaint, rheumatism, neuralgia, and as a preventive of the first attack or subsequent return of malarial disorders, this medicine is without a peer. Thrice daily take a wineglassful.

JOLLY JOKELETS.

NERVOUS PASSENGER—"Are you sure there is no danger?" Officer—"Not a bit. The captain's just gone to take a nap, because it's too foggy to see anything."—P. & S. Bulletin.

LITTLE EFFIE—"Do you love me very much, mamma?" Mamma (a widow)—"Yes, my darling." Little Effie—"Then why don't you marry the man at the candy store?"—Vogue.

"LOOK here," said an excited man to a druggist, "you gave me morphine for quinine this morning!" "Is that so?" replied the druggist. "Then you owe me twenty-five cents."—P. & S. Bulletin.

WATTS—"It is too bad about that young man who imagines that he has a brass band in his head, isn't it?" Potts—"Yes; but he is not the first man who was musical in his mind."—Indianapolis Journal.

NERVOUS LADY PASSENGER (to deck hand)—"Have you ever seen any worse weather than this, Mister Sailor?" Deck Hand—"Take a word from an old salt, mum; the weather's never very bad while there's any feemales on deck a-makin' henquiries about it."—Pick-Me-Up.

HUMOROUS PICKINGS.

HARD ON THE RICH—Diamonds.—Puck.

A GOOD PUBLIC REHEARSAL—Acting on the square.—Truth.

COLLEGE FINANCES.

THE cost of maintaining Girard college is $440,000 per year.

OVER $89,000 a year are distributed by Harvard university "to poor and worthy scholars of high rank."

CONGRESS has appropriated $64,000 to reimburse William and Mary college for the destruction of its property during the civil war.

THE class of '42 at Yale has raised $3,000, the income of which is to be used by the university in encouraging the art of extemporaneous speaking among the students.

SECRETARY FRANK BOLLES, of Harvard, tells of a young man who entered college with 44 cents and a debt of $115, paid his own expenses and graduated $266 ahead of the game.

IN MARBLE AND OIL.

QUEEN VICTORIA has loaned the celebrated painting by Lady Butler, entitled "The Roll Call," to the world's fair.

MISS ANNE WHITNEY, of Boston, has finished busts of Mrs. Stowe, Miss Willard and Miss Lucy Stone, and is now at work on a portrait of Mrs. Mary A. Livermore.

AN old picture dealer declares that really good etchings, prints, engravings and other works of art bring more than their value even at public auction. He believes that judicious investment in pictures is as safe as buying diamonds.

QUEEN VICTORIA has sent specimens of her own art work to the Chicago fair. She has three landscapes, mounted in plain frames, representing scenes near Balmoral. A fourth is a view of Aix-les-Bains, taken from the spot where the queen intended to build a villa.

PERSONAL MENTION.

MRS. ROBERT G. INGERSOLL receives almost as many letters as her husband, and most of the letters inclose religious tracts.

JOHN REA, the only survivor of the original Christy's minstrels, celebrated the seventieth anniversary of his birth at his home in North Paterson, N. J., recently.

MRS. SARAH HAWN, the mother of seventeen children, died recently at Oakland, Ill., at the age of one hundred and five. At the time of his death, a few years ago, her husband had attained his ninety-seventh year.

MRS. JENNIE NOSTEEEN, of Princeton, Ky., failed to catch the measles when she was young, had an attack of that disease at the advanced age of one hundred and ten years and died a few days ago. She lived with her daughter, who is ninety years old and is now left an orphan.

POLITICAL SQUIBS.

The last year of the Harrison Administration was the most prosperous in the history of the United States. The first year of the Cleveland Administration sees more financial peril than any period since the last great panic.—N. Y. Press.

Democrats who imagine they have a mortgage on the country can profitably study the case of Wilmington, Del., which has just been carried by the Republicans by a bigger plurality than Mr. Cleveland had in the whole State last Autumn.—Boston Journal.

The free trade Democrats are in a State of painful uncertainty as to whether a tax on incomes or one on sugar will bring their party into deeper discredit with the people.—Rochester Democrat and Chronicle.

If Carlisle had known as much about his present office six months ago as he knows now he would still be Senator from Kentucky.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Secretary Hoke Smith's anti-pension order will be worth a good many votes to the Republican party in the Fall elections.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Secretary Carlisle's chances for the Presidency will turn to vapor the moment that he recommends the restoration of the sugar duty.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.
